Incredible WWI Tribute in London Looks like A River of Blood... But Look Closer!

By Steve Rushing
AUGUST 2, 2014

World War I, known at the time as the Great War, was thought to be the war that would end all future wars. All sides suffered an incredibly high number of needless deaths and the war devastated an entire generation.

In fact, the sheer amount of destruction and death has only been eclipsed by World War II. Since it ended, all countries involved have held memorials to remember their fallen dead who sacrificed their lives for the good of their country. This fact is all the more so in England, where nearly a million people lost their lives. What they've done to commemorate their fallen soldiers is truly beautiful, while also helping us understand the true scope of these soldiers' sacrifice. Even a hundred years later, we should not forget their incredible acts of heroism. The moat that surrounds the Tower of London has long stood empty and dry. But now, what may look like gushing blood from its very walls, is actually something beautiful.

MARSHAL SMUTS BULLSHEET

They shall grow not old, as we that are left grow old Age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn
At the going down of the sun and in the morning
we shall remember them

We will remember them!

CERTIFICATE OF MERIT Moth GRAHAM STUCK

ON 24 AUGUST 2014, PROVINCIAL OLD BILL MOTH GRAHAM STUCK WAS AWARDED THE CERTIFICATE OF MERIT. HERE WE SEE MOTH BRIAN PORTER PINNING THE "TRI-COLOUR".

9.1. Certificate of Merit

This certificate is the highest award in the MOTH and is presented to Moths whose loyalty and devotion to the Order has been outstanding over a considerable period and in a sphere wider than their Shellholes. Recommendations for the award shall be made and submitted to either the Full National Executive or to the National Executive Administrative Committee by a Provincial Dugout, together with a citation in the format approved by the Full National Executive.
