

WARRIORS GATE – RENWOOD CARRIERS RECOGNITION

Recognising commitment and assistance to the Order, was the theme of a recent presentation held at Warriors Gate.

A local company and dedicated team of rigging and transportation specialists lent their time and effort in uplifting and relocation the M3 Stuart ‘honey’ tank over 350 km from Vryheid, and placing it in final position at Warrior’s Gate, in a single day.... way beyond expectation!

It is to be noted that most rigging companies approached quoted a period of three days, and substantial costs to perform this task and job scope, whereas RENWOOD Carriers came to the fore and not only completed this in one day, but also at a significant donation of time, effort, and cost.

Their dedication and commitment warrant recognition of the highest order, and in doing so, the MM&M committee recently presented the CEO Ren Moodley with a well-deserved certificate of thanks on behalf of the MOTH Museum of Militaria.

Established in 1994 by Mr. Ren Moodley, formed initially as an extension to an already well-established heavy vehicle repair business and starting with a single truck, today some 28 years later, RENWOOD Carriers has become a leading player in the heavy industry rigging and transportation business.

In June 2007, RENWOOD Carriers became BEE compliant with an 80% recognition level. Mr. Moodley believes, integrity, reliability and fierce yet friendly commitment in servicing clients better, will keep this business firmly and soundly on the road to the future.
